Report of the Registrar

he 70th Anniversary of the Board has provided a moment of historic opportunity. In many respects, the reflections and aspirations of the Board have been energized.

Our San Diego meeting in mid-July afforded an opportunity to recognize contractors who have helped remedy the effects of unscrupulous business deals. Continuing in this spirit of goodwill toward the community, the Board encourages contractors throughout the state to find ways to provide their services to such projects as Habitat for Humanity (see page 4). The Board applauds those contractors who have consistently taken the initiative to support their community.

Most recently, the Board initiated the mandatory Home Improvement Certification for all home improvement contractors. This is our sincere effort to increase the quality of contractors being presented to the public.

At the same time, we are refining the workings of the Board through our re-engineering project. We anticipate better service as we streamline our organization.

The Internet is another way CSLB and contractors can improve efficiency. Virtual contractors are finding the Internet can reduce paperwork, centralize their management efforts and save money. Even the Home Improvement Certification Exam can be taken via the Internet.

Daily we are finding new ways

Contractor Good Guys Bask in the Spotlight

t the July 15, 1999, Contractors State License Board meeting in San Diego, Contractors State License Board acting Chairman Robert Alvarado prefaced a presentation to two San Diego contractors by stating that the vast majority of California contractors do a great job, but unfortunately the public usually hears only about the bad operators.

"The fact is many contractors perform above and beyond, yet go unnoticed. That will not be the case today," said Mr. Alvarado.

More than a year ago, the Contractors State License Board began building a case against a San Diego contracting company that had defrauded dozens of Marti Emerald, KGTV's Troubleshooter, who aired the original story, followed up with additional reports publicly acknowledging these good guy contractors. Ms. Emerald was honored at the Board meeting, as well.

Calling All Home Improvement Contractors!

If you do any kind of work within your existing classification in which you contract with homeowners, or if you subcontract to contractors who sign a contract with homeowners, you MUST obtain the Home Improvement Certification by July 1, 2000.

The purpose of this certification is to educate contractors about requirements in home improvement contracts. The law was passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor.

You may study for and take the open-book HIC Exam on the CSLB website at www.cslb.ca.gov. Read more about it on page 3.

And Now We Are Seventy

he CSLB marked seven decades of service to California's contractors and consumers by hosting a special event after the June 16, 1999, Board meeting in Sacramento.

Acting Board Chairman Robert Alvarado and Registrar Dr. C. Lance Barnett directed a program at which a joint State Assembly and Senate resolution was read by Senator Dick Mountjoy. The resolution congratulated the Board and decreed June 13-19, 1999, as "Contractor's Week." Additionally, proclamations and congratulatory letters from State Senator Patrick Johnston and Assemblymember Anthony Pescetti were presented. A billboard encouraging consumers to hire only licensed contractors also was unveiled at the event.

Other presentations included past reflections from former Registrar Gail Jesswein, a congratulatory letter from the wife of former Registrar David Phillips, and recognition of two CSLB record-holders. First, Teichert Construction was congratulated for possessing the longest-held license—number eight—since September 24, 1929, and CSLB employee Lupe De Raya was recognized as being the longest currently serving CSLB employee.

Board Member Minnie Lopez-Baffo Receives A Tribute From The Governor

iting decades of service in numerous community organizations, First Lady Sharon Davis recently presented a Governor's proclamation declaring June 24, 1999, as "Minnie Lopez-Baffo Day" throughout the state. Ms. Lopez-Baffo, a Contractors State License Board member since 1995, received the proclamation at a ceremony in Los Angeles. The proclamation praised her for "outstanding leadership to the community" and called her "a woman of integrity and dedication," as well as "a role model and mentor for many Californians."

"Minnie is an exemplary member of the Contractors State License Board, representing not only the community but all of California's consumers," said CSLB Registrar Dr. C. Lance Barnett, who was joined at the presentation ceremony by Board Chairman Joe Tavaglione and Board Member Nina Tate.

Minnie Lopez-Baffo

Additionally, Ms. Lopez-Baffo received certificates of commendation from more than 25 people representing local and state government officials. Ms. Lopez-Baffo is a Senate President Pro Tempore's appointee to the Contractors State License Board.

HIC Coming to a Mailbox Near You

he first wave of Home Improvement Certification packets was delivered by good, old-fashioned mail to thousands of contractors in June 1999. The 9x12 envelope packet includes the exam, an application and answer sheet, a study guide, and a self-addressed return envelope. If you do not receive your packet by September 15, 1999, call (916) 255-3900 and a duplicate will be forwarded to you.

Even if you have received your packet by mail and want to take the exam on the CSLB Internet website, you are encouraged to join the more than 6000 contractors who have already done so. By taking the exam on the Internet, you receive instantaneous test results and you will receive your new pocket card more quickly.

A few things to remember about the Home Improvement Certification:

 All home improvement contractors or qualifiers —both sub and general — are required to take this exam and become certified by July 1, 2000.

- The certification will allow home improvement contractors to continue performing the same work within their existing classifications.
- The exam, application/answer sheet, and study guide are available on the Internet at www.cslb.ca.gov. The test results are immediate, and a new pocket card can be mailed to you more quickly than with the pencil and paper test.
- Those who take the mailed pencil and paper exam should keep their exam and booklet as proof until the new pocket card is issued.
- The exam and certification are FREE.
- If you already took and passed the exam on the Internet and you receive a packet in the mail, you should not take the test again.
- If a qualifier/contractor has more than one current license and passes the exam, the certification will be added automatically to all current licenses and new pocket cards will be issued for all licenses.

New and Improved!

Free Contractor Education Seminars Coming Your Way

even new locations. Three new topics. CSLB's Contractor Education Seminars are coming your way in the fall and winter of 1999-2000. Watch the next issue of this newsletter for specific dates, seminar sites, and a registration form. Cities in which Contractor Education Seminars are planned include: Eureka, Santa Rosa, San Jose, San Luis Obispo, Los Angeles, Modesto, and Palm Springs.

Each seminar will take place from 6:30-9:00 p.m. on a weeknight.

Because the 1998-99 seminars were so well-received by contractors, we anticipate a great deal of interest in the 1999-2000 seminars. The next newsletter will include a registration form—be sure to register early. The free seminars are provided as a service of the Contractors State License Board to interested contractors.

What Is Available on the New CSLB Website

he CSLB website has received more than one and one-half million hits in the last 30 days. Whether or not that is due to its new, improved look is not clear. Here are a few of the new attractions you can visit or revisit at www.cslb.ca.gov:

• The contractors license check is the Board's most active feature, though not our most recent. Consumers are encouraged to verify licenses before hiring any contractor.

- The Home Improvement Certification exam is one way to practice for and take the test.
- If your California Licensed Contractor newsletter gets lost in the mail, chewed up by the dog or is used as fish and chips wrapping, you can check out the latest issue on the CSLB website.
- Changes in the law, Board meeting dates, and basic contractor information are all on the web.

First Ladies Build . . .

but they need your volunteer help!

irst Ladies across the nation have joined Habitat for Humanity in a commitment to organize all-female crews to construct one Habitat home in every state capital. California's First Lady is supporting the Habitat for Humanity "First Ladies Build" program and is partnering with Sacramento's Habitat for Humanity to coordinate a California team of women to raise funds and design and build a safe, decent and affordable home for a needy family. The family selected to receive the home will invest 500 hours of sweat equity.

While being billed as the "First Ladies Build," participation by men is welcomed and encouraged.

The new home, including a fully-landscaped yard, is scheduled to be completed and dedicated by November 1999. The framing will begin September 3, 1999, followed by a 10-day "blitz build." Sacramento Habitat for Humanity needs volunteer help from skilled craftspeople for stucco, framing, drywall, and roofing work, and they need volunteer general superintendents. Any number of days you can give is appreciated, and Habitat for Humanity welcomes volunteers statewide. If you would like to volunteer or provide monetary or product donations, please contact Julie Carlson at (916) 498-9162, fax to (916) 498-1099, or e-mail her at jcarlson@tunervanir.com. There is no specific deadline, but Habitat for Humanity asks that you contact them early if you are interested.

Since 1991, women crews have built more than 200 Habitat for Humanity homes. "First Ladies Build" will add at least 50 more homes to this total.

The Habitat for Humanity website is www.habitat.org.

United Service Alert Would Dig a Call from You

California is one of the fastest-growing states in the nation, and the underground infrastructure of gas, electric, telephone, cable television, sewer and water systems is growing right along with the population. To avoid hitting underground facilities, call 1-800-227-2600 and an Underground Service Alert (USA a.k.a. DigAlert in Southern California) customer service representative will process your excavation information and notify all USA members who may have facilities in conflict with your excavation project. USA is a not-forprofit, non-governmental agency designed to expedite your excavation notification by providing you one statewide telephone number— 1-800-227-2600.

Here's how easy it is: Outline your excavation in white paint, and call 1-800-227-2600 two working days before you dig and give the following information:

- Your name, telephone number and company information
- Nature or type of excavation
- Excavation location Provide county, place, and address or description of your digging project (include nearest cross street, and other tie in measurements.)

Once your information is received, the customer service representative will give you a ticket number for your call. Your USA ticket will be active for 14 calendar days from the date you call in.

Once the USA members are notified, they have two days to locate or mark the approximate location of their underground facilities, advise you of the location of their facilities or give you clearance to dig.

So when you plan to dig, do it safely. Call—1-800-227-2600 Before You Dig.

Enforcement Grab Bag

Unlicensed Contractors Get More Than a Citation

SLB deputies and local law enforcement officials were busy at a sting in San Ramon on June 15 and 16, 1999, where 34 individuals were cited for contracting without a license and for operating without a local business license. Of the 34, four were taken to county jail on outstanding warrants and another four were released pending further investigation for a charge of using another contractor's license. The sting was held at the request of, and in cooperation with, the San Ramon Police Department and San Ramon Building and Safety Services.

Every week somewhere in California, the CSLB Statewide Investigation and Fraud Team (SWIFT) units conduct at least two stings. In 1997-98, CSLB filed 1,618 citations against unlicensed contractors.

If you have unlicensed contracting activity to report or need to contact SWIFT, call (916) 255-2924 in Northern California or (714) 994-7435 in Southern California.

Open and Shut Case of Grand Theft

A Los Angeles County glazing contractor pleaded guilty to two felony counts of grand theft in the Whittier Division Municipal Court on June 10, 1999. The president and responsible managing officer for the glazing contractor was sentenced to three years of formal probation. It was established that more than a dozen victims were financially injured in an amount in excess of $30,000. A restitution hearing is set at which the schedule of payments to each victim will be determined. Over the course of time, if the glazing contractor does not pay, he will serve 180 days in the county jail.

The CSLB and the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office prepared the case against the glass and window contractor who followed a pattern of taking large, illegal down payments to install residential windows, diverting the money to pay for personal expenses, then abandoning the jobs.

The Evolution of Nigeria 419

n old scam targeting contractors has re-surfaced as a new, get-rich-quick scheme. A 13-year-old Nigerian con game (named "419" after a relevant Nigerian criminal code) has been updated from a letter scam begun in 1986, which evolved into a fax campaign, and is now an Internet and e-mail racket.

Nigeria 419, which has netted $5 billion worldwide and grown to become the third largest industry in Nigeria, targets businesses with access to commercial and personal bank accounts. According to the 419 Coalition, a private organization designed to combat the Nigerian scam, letters and e-mails describe an opportunity to transfer government funds from Nigeria to the United States. The communication asks the recipient to forward bank account information and signed documentation.

According to the 419 Coalition, perpetrators of this scam drain the victim's bank account. Some of those who have attempted to retrieve funds from Nigeria have either been murdered, or kidnapped and ransomed.

If you have received Nigeria 419 correspondence, please forward appropriate written documentation to the United States Secret Service, Financial Crimes Division, 950 H Street, NW, Room 5300, Washington, D.C. 20001; telephone at (202) 406-5850; or through the Internet at www.treas.gov/usss/. The Secret Service investigates the perpetrators of this scheme, not those victimized by it.

Nigerian officials are concerned about the country's business reputation, but have been unable to control the scam. The obvious solution is to avoid get-rich-quick schemes altogether.

to help contractors run better businesses, but the battle is not yet won. It is still important for our messages to reach contractors and consumers. Above all else, we need to improve the skills and knowledge of California contractors so we can say without doubt that California contractors are the best in the world. We appreciate your help in working with us to make this vision a reality.

What Would You Do?

Richard Hanlin, owner of Hanlin Construction in San Francisco since 1974, poses this question to California's contractors.

"It is a dilemma for a contractor when presented with a plan to solve. For example, there is a structural problem in an existing building and, as a contractor, you know a cheaper, but equally sound, approach to accomplish the same purpose. Do you: (a) reveal your method at the bidding stage and perhaps become a bidder on your own idea? or (b) wait until you get the job and tell what you know?"

Tim Allard of Home Improvements by Tim Allard in Canyon Lake was the only contractor to list the same repairs as the state inspector during a Dateline NBC investigation, and his price came within $100 of the inspector's estimated price. Mr. Allard's response to Mr. Hanlin's question is:

"If the question is about plans, you want the plans to be corrected or looked over by an architect. If it's a small job, your considerations might be different. It all depends on the complexity of the plans and the nature of the job your doing. You'll always have to make adjustments here and there against the plans of an architect, but remember your reputation. If you pick the job, remember that you risk your reputation as a contractor. As we all know, in this business that's everything."

If you have an answer for Mr. Hanlin, please fax it to (916) 255-1395, and we will publish a selected number of answers in the next newsletter.

Questions for "What Would You Do?" should be faxed to the same number.

The Best-Laid Plans

Thank you for your enthusiastic response to the CSLB Publication Order Form offered in the Spring '99 edition of this newsletter.
Our FAX machine was somewhat overwhelmed with your many requests and misprinted a few of them. If you have not received your publication order, please try again. Our sincere apologies for the delay. The FAX number is (916) 255-1395.

We've Only Just Begun to Web

n increasing number of contractors hope to join the estimated 500 million Internet websites designed to attract new business. For many contractors throughout California, the new world of Internet-contracting can be both a lifesaver and a challenging adventure.

"It really wasn't hard to get started with a web page," admitted Rick Dessinger, of California Homes Roofing, whose site generally "nets" one or two clients per month. However, he reports that many of the inquiries originate far from his Long Beach work area, and he must refer them somewhere else.

Contractor and architect Charles A. Ross, owner of Charles A. Ross Company, who enjoys a high response rate to his business web page, also receives many unrelated and out-of-region inquiries. He believes that "people need to be educated about searching the Internet" because most of his hits are unrelated and often from Japan. The popularity of Ross' site is no accident; he first posted a website in 1998 and has worked hard to make sure his site is listed first on most search engines.

Other contractors who may not have been advertising on the Internet as long as Ross have found that being named first is nearly impossible. One business owner laments that those who got there (to search engines) early are already listed, and "the rest of us have to fight to get listed." He admits that getting started is very slow but he also notes that it is "cheap advertising and is really very cost effective."

The cost of maintaining a web page, aside from the development costs, is usually no more than $25 per month, reports Ross. Most contractors who maintain web pages report mixed results, and agree it is no get-rich-quick scheme.

Eric Tienken, of The Remodeling Group, who developed a web page for his contracting firm that does half of its business with commercial companies that regularly use the Internet, has found it an invaluable tool for exchange of information.

His company successfully uses an on-line response form which encourages customers to submit all relevant information regarding a proposed job. Most customers do so, which streamlines the whole information exchange process.

"There is no longer a need for our company to explain itself, and no reason for us to ask them additional questions once the form is filled out. The ones who use the website are ready to begin the construction process from day one," said Tienken.

Correction: How to order the California License Law and Reference Book

oon after we published the Spring 99 California Licensed Contractor newsletter, the Department of General Services' counter sales address and phone number changed. The new counter sales information is in blue.

The mail order information did not change.
